8. On 1 May 63 Maj. Rutland advised that Charles was staying at the Park Sheraton Hotel, New York, and that he had telephoned her since her name had been supplied to him by Sykes. Charles considered her to be his point of contact in Washington. According to Maj. Rutland, Charles had conversations to the Vice President's Council, Senator Easton, and Congressman Brown (Minnesota). However, Charles was willing to talk to representatives of the British's office. Maj. Rutland stated that the British had been in 1941 was ready to go to New York to talk to Charles and Arthur Galt to accompany him. Charles speaks very little English and a fluency in French was therefore required for the future visit. Maj. Rutland stated that he might be able to obtain a French linguist from Marine Corps, Commander's School, but it would not be an intelligence officer. It was stated that James Baker, New York Office, who has a knowledge of the French language would accompany the AMI representatives 1 May 1963 cont. It was also suggested that Sykes would meet the AMI representatives (Captain Rogers) at the Park Sheraton Hotel where Charles was staying.

3. On 2 May 1936, Hottel reported that Col. Holt had interviewed Mr. Dwyer in June 1935. Dwyer had requested Charles as Director of his bank in Haiti. Charles, according to Dwyer, strongly had no political ambitions but as vice of the current political situation in Haiti, Charles now thinks that he may some day be President. Dwyer described Charles as well-educated, politically and financially, on both sides of the fence in Haiti. He is also a good friend of General Louis Duralier. Dwyer had given Charles letters of introduction to Senator Keating and to other politicians in Washington. Charles wanted to see President Kennedy and indeed had gone to the White House to arrange a - an appointment. He was well received by the President's personal secretary and invited to dinner that evening with the appointment

8. Both Charles and Dr. Hirschowitz were anxious to arrange meetings with government officials in Washington. I mentioned to Charles that a meeting had been arranged for him at 2:15 and that a Mr. Green would meet him in the lobby. At 1:40 Mrs. Gellbach, Mrs. and Mrs. Dr. Hirschowitz and I departed and Charles remained in the lobby waiting for contact.

9. In the course of the Luskham conversation, Charles had mentioned to Mrs. Hattick that he desired to see a Mr. Ware, A.D., to discuss O and E with. Later that afternoon Mrs. Hattick called to state that she had called the State Department to get along Charles' request. Mr. Luskham (Hamm) had called her back to pass on the Russian Bank and its credit disclosure. That evening in the United States Government should be in official contact with Charles. She did not consider Charles to be close to the Russian Government, to have been involved in several study financial matters, and in general, to be an unfavorable character. Mrs. Hattick asked whether the Agency had any interest in Charles which would dictate further contact with Charles.

15. Mary Stuart advised with Mr. Sullivan and determined that as a result of the meeting with Carlson, the Navy Station had had no further plans to contact him. I told Mrs. Sullivan that our interests related to him were satisfied and that I believed we should disengage ourselves as gracefully as possible.

11. Upon return, R/P Coordinator, called on 7 May to further concerning our involvement in the Charles case. He stated that he had called his contact that day to advise him that AML had no direct interest in Charles and that it was acting as an intermediary of the request of General Bunker who had passed the lead to General Hark. AML was concerned that due to the nature of involvement to the Charles, certain might have to state that AML had intervened or had obstructed the contact with Charles. I explained to him that had happened and he later called back to state that AML was completely satisfied in the way the matter had been handled.

12. On 8 May Mr. Hark telephoned to advise that the Operational Branch of AML was discussing the Charles case with R/P to determine future course of action. He was still somewhat concerned over our position in the case since Charles continued her to to the final point in Washington. I explained to her that the matter was one for either the State Department or the Operational Branch to handle and that we preferred to discuss elsewhere. Mr. Hark mentioned that a dispatch had been received to the effect that a circle of Charles was gradually notified as a measure to facilitate should the latter be overthrown. One was of the opinion that the US government should continue to "play ball" with Charles as a foreign agent in British affairs.
