Appraisal of Content: 2.

1. Since mid-February 1963 Mexican immigration authorities have placed stamps in the passports of travellers to and from Cuba which read "Arrived from Cuba" and "Left for Cuba". The stamps are placed on the page with the picture.¹
2. All requests for Mexican tourist visas in Cuba must be approved in Mexico before they are issued in Habana.²

Field Comments

1. Cuban visas are often issued on a separate piece of paper and not stamped in the passport, so that the passport would not show that the bearer had travelled to Cuba.
2. This regulation was first noticed in February 1963.

Documentation for travel from Mexico to Cuba does not differ from that needed for travel to other Latin American countries. The traveller must have a passport or other travel document, with a valid visa. Mexican citizens within the specified age group must also carry a cartilla militar.

Mexican security services do not screen applications for travel to Cuba. Although the Mexican Government has taken no action to prevent travel to Cuba, it has discouraged government employees from accepting invitations to Cuban-sponsored activities. It also appears to want to avoid recognition of Cuban Government activities by not sending government-sponsored delegations. These steps, plus the bothersome baggage searches, photographs, and questioning by Mexican immigration authorities have probably curtailed travel to Cuba.

Paras. 1,3: Person (B) with good contacts in the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City.

Para. 2: A neutralist diplomat (C) in Mexico City, from Sori Coulibaly.

Appraisal of Content: 2.

1. On 18 February 1963 Sori Coulibaly, the Ambassador of the Republic of Mali to the United Nations and to Cuba,¹ and Mamadou Traore, Deputy Permanent Representative of the Mali Mission to the United Nations, arrived in Mexico from Habana Cuba. Coulibaly told members of the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City that he had spoken with Raul Roa, Cuban Foreign Minister, who asked Coulibaly to take steps to have the Government of Mali send a resident Ambassador to Cuba.
 2. Coulibaly said that the Cubans had put pressure on him to open an office in Habana and that they had in fact given him a building for this purpose. However, Coulibaly said that he did not see how Mali could afford to open an office in Habana, in view of the fact that he had hardly enough money to operate the Mali Mission to the United Nations.²
 3. Coulibaly and Traore left Mexico City on 20 February for New York. Coulibaly carried Mali diplomatic passport No. 23; Traore carried diplomatic passport No. 42.
1. Headquarters Comment. Coulibaly presented his credentials in Cuba on 13 February 1963.
 2. Source Comment. Coulibaly confided that he had requested 50 million Mali francs (about $203,000.00) as an annual budget for the operation of the Mali Mission to the United Nations; that he had been allotted only one-tenth of that amount for the first quarter of 1963; and that he had not received even that.
