1 enlighten you on it.

2 Mr. Goldsmith. Does the CIA have any affiliation with 3 organizations in the United States who might be responsible for 4 debriefing someone?

5 Mr. Tovar. Not that I am aware of.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. In other words, if anyone is going to be 7 debriefed it would be by the Domestic Contact Division?

8 Mr. Tovar. In the intelligence sense. In the sense of 9 elucidation of intelligence, DCD would do it. A different type 10 of inquiry, personal investigation, the Office of Security, or 11 whoever it works through, would be the one.

12 The one we are talking about, DCD is the only organization
13 I know of. I can visualize a circumstance under which operating 14 components might seek out an individual or might have in times
15 past but I can't think of a case in point in my own recollec-
16 tion. I would say, given the strictures on our operating in 17 the United States, we would rely upon DCD to do it if they had 18 any positive intelligence connotation. If it were of an 19 operational nature today, the Foreign Resources Division might 20 pursue it.

21 Mr. Goldsmith. Yes.

22 Mr. Tovar. It is the division level of the Directorate.

23 It is the division which seeks in the United States to develop 24 potential intelligence assets for abroad. I think I had

25 better defer to the other people on that. That is roughly where
