TRAINING REPORT

Advanced Intelligence Seminar No. 4
(100 hours, full-time) (3 - 19 March 1971)

Student: Moore, James W.

Year of Birth: 1919 Grade: GS-14

EOD: July 1947 Service Designation: IT

Office: DCS Number of Students: 28

COURSE OBJECTIVES - CONTENT AND METHODS

The basic objectives of the Advanced Intelligence Seminar (AIS) are to increase the awareness of experienced Agency personnel to: major international and domestic trends affecting US foreign policy and intelligence; key problems and possible organizational changes, facing the intelligence community; recent and projected developments within CIA to meet current and future Agency responsibilities; and major problems of collection, production, coordination and support of intelligence.

Methods of instruction include formal presentations by academic experts, government officials, senior Agency and intelligence community officers, and substantive experts from the Agency. Students are encouraged to participate actively in follow-up discussions both with the speakers and within the class itself. Emphasis is also placed on in-class discussions, using the talents and experiences of the students as a primary resource. For purposes of encouraging open, meaningful exchange, sections of the course are held at Warrenton and ISOLATION, where a more relaxed seminar atmosphere can be developed. Finally, attempts are made to provide provocative-type readings to the students both prior to, and during, the course itself.

ACHIEVEMENT RECORD

This is a certificate of attendance only; no attempt was made to evaluate student achievement in this course.
