1. Pursuant to the suggestion contained in DIR 04341, 23 April 1965, we asked JAGUAR to lay on such coverage as they could manage. After some weeks has passed, and JAGUAR had not moved in this direction, we repeated our request, pointing out that STEBONY/1 would soon be leaving. Short-handed and hampered by certain restrictions, JAGUAR moved in to do what they could, and their coverage was due to start almost at the same time as TIFFANY was to begin his meetings with S/1. We contacted JAGUAR and told them to lay off (much to our chagrin) for the time being. This they did, but then, without our being advised, they resumed their coverage. We don't know exactly how long they actually had him in their sights, but they have now given us a letter (text below) suggesting that he was watched on 5, 6 and 7 June. A JAGUAR officer advised us informally that S/1 "seemed to be out of town" for one or two days. (TIFFANY had mentioned that he might take S/1 to the country for a day, but we don't know whether in fact he did so.)

2. Here is JAGUAR's notes:

"As explained in conversation on the 8th June, 1965, we have received a report on S/1's movements during the period 5th - 7th June, 1965. Nothing of interest was learnt about his movements on the 6th and 7th June, but you may be interested in the following information relating to the 5th June:-

"S/1 left his home at 11.25 and travelled by taxi to the Haymarket where he entered the American Express offices. He obtained a ticket for an air passage to Brussels and a train journey to Basle, thence to Lausanne and Paris where he was due to arrive on the 10th June. He paid £20-29-1d for his ticket. He left the American Express at 12.30 and subsequently returned home at 13.20 hours."

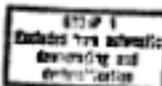

"He left home again at 14.05 and went to the Clarendon Court Hotel in Maida Vale. He came out of the building after five minutes and wandered around for twenty minutes before returning to the hotel. He stayed there until 18.45 when he left alone and returned home."

3. The JAGUAR officer also told me that S/1's contact at the Clarendon Court Hotel was not identified by the surveillant, who in fact did not know which room S/1 had visited. The contact, of course, was TIFFANY, registered as GUSTIE.

SUMMARY

On 12 June 1965 STK1NRY/1 met RODIGAST Career Agent Rufus F. RODIGAST in Paris in accordance with instructions and for the next three days underwent debriefings, briefings, an LCP1P1TER examination, and training in preparation for his summer 1965 assignment to Algiers. At the conclusion of this period LCP1P1T felt that S/1: had absorbed sufficiently the guidance given him, had responded satisfactorily to Case Officer control, was apparently clear of hostile direction, and was motivated to perform creditably throughout his three-month trial employment.

Personally, S/1 appeared to understand and to follow good security practices by and large, but he was concerned that his wife now suspected him of being "up to something" of which she did not approve. In short, his overall long-term security appraisals wasn't closest to home. Nevertheless, he appeared highly confident that previous denunciations to which he had been subjected would not "stick" and that he could rapidly reestablish himself among revolutionary circles.

His relationship to KUBARK over the longer period has apparently been of considerable interest to him, to the extent that he stated he would be interested in some sort of career status with KUBARK (with retirement benefits) and perhaps one day a "less covert" position. At this time in our relationship with S/1, however, LCPIT is concerned primarily with what to do with him on 1 September 1965. In fact, in view of the 19-20 June developments in Algiers and the possible postponement of most of the activities S/1 was to cover in efforts to reestablish himself as a legitimate propagandist for national liberation movements, KUBARK may find it not only feasible, but necessary, to revise S/1's initial KUBARK mission.

In the days and weeks to come we will be reporting S/1's progress as he relates his accomplishments and problems through S/1's communications and in meetings with RODCAST. We shall be submitting recommendations on S/1's longer term utility to KUBARK as we have more information upon which to make some judgments. We know that addressees will be subjecting the STRONGY operation to constant evaluation and analysis throughout the summer, and we will appreciate continued and coordinated guidance on how best to exploit the unique potential represented by this asset.

I. LCPIT SUPPORT FOR THE STRONGY OPERATION

1. On 3 June 1965 STRONGY/1 signed a letter of agreement with COYONE in London, in effect a contract with KUBARK. Upon signing the letter of agreement and agreeing to undergo an LCPIT examination, S/1 was introduced to Rufus F. RODCAST, a KUBARK Career Agent based in Paris who had been designated S/1's outside case officer. RODCAST is known to S/1 under the alias "Paul Waller." RODCAST met at length with S/1 on 3, 5, and 6 June and made arrangements for S/1 to meet him in Paris 12 June and undergo further training, briefing, and security processing prior to embarking on a trial assignment of some 10 weeks.

2. On 12 June 1965 S/1 made contact with RODCAST in Paris in accordance with instructions and was taken immediately to a ~~safehouse~~ for debriefing on his 8-11 June trip in ~~West Europe~~ and for training in the use of S/1's ~~system #64~~. RODCAST's Contact Report on this meeting and his report of the debriefing are included in Attachment B (USC.). S/1 was passed $200.00 in ~~travel~~ arrangements for his trip to North Africa. (See also PALP 4057).

3. On 13 June S/1 again met RODCAST in accordance with instructions and was taken to his LCPIT examination at an LCPIT safehouse. The results of this examination were forwarded in PALP 4056. In short, the outcome of the examination was considered satisfactory for the proposed operational use of S/1.

SECRET/KAPOK

4. On 14 and 15 June RODIGAST again met with S/1 for further debriefings on the latter's contacts in Paris. RODIGAST then briefed him on KUTTER requirements for MUSKIRE and passed on the requirements of file-number forwarded in DIR 18107 and DIR 18675. RODIGAST's reports on these meetings are also included in Attachment 3 (USC). On 14 June S/1 was passed $500.00 as an advance on his per diem and travel expenses for his next meeting with RODIGAST. RODIGAST considers S/1 an apt student who learned the S/V system well in some two hours of instruction. Paris KHAROF Officer DONAHY noted some carelessness on S/1's part in the test messages, and this was subsequently brought to S/1's attention in the overall security briefing he received from RODIGAST.

5. The communications system established with S/1 consists of pre-arranged meeting sites and times, a one-way S/V system, and the use of the classified advertising section of the Algiers El Moudjahid (received daily in Paris) by S/1 to signal a postponement of meeting dates. The one-way system was chosen for this initial stage of the agent's operational relationship with KEPARK for reasons of security; given the operational climate in Algiers and the specific circles in which S/1 must move, and adding to the sudden political upheaval in Algeria, S/1 would not be in a position to receive incoming communications safely. As of 25 June S/1 had initiated S/V correspondence, his initial effort being clearly legible and the content operationally worthwhile. (See Attachment F).

6. The next RODIGAST contact with S/1 is scheduled for 15 July in Rome. (See OPRA 2558 for LCPWIT's request for Rome Station support.) In view of the events that have just taken place in Algeria the meeting may well be concerned as much with rethinking S/1's operational objectives for the period following 15 July as with debriefings, briefings, and passage of funds. Even though latest indications are that Bandung II will proceed as scheduled, it is questionable whether the AJAA or the Afro-Asian Women's conference will be held in Algiers this summer. Moreover, there is no assurance at this writing that MEMINICK will not be either postponed, canceled, or moved elsewhere. Add to this the possibility that IDEM A might be on the scene profiting from the sudden rise in the political fortunes of his friends, and Algiers suddenly loses some of its appeal as an area in which to carry out a meaningful test of S/1's operational capabilities. The next three weeks will tell us much and perhaps allay many of our apprehensions.

7. Nevertheless, RODIGAST must be prepared to handle a number of eventualities in his 15 July meeting, not the least of these being a possible revision of S/1's mission. The following possible alternatives present themselves; we ask Headquarters to address its attention to them and to other developmental targets and to cable recommendations and guidance prior to 13 July:

a. S/1 to remain on site, continue his efforts to establish credentials and find a job in Algiers, or elsewhere, in the national liberation movement, and report on political developments in Algeria.

b. S/1 to travel to Dar es Salam to look into the job offer made some time ago by Dennis PROPERAL.

c. S/1 to proceed to Brussels to continue development of IDEM B (see OPRA 2551).

d. S/1 to return to London to write up reports and operational proposals and polish up the translation of IDEM B's book.

e. S/1 to follow the MPECOK caravan wherever it may lead (perhaps Sofia?) and continue to look for job leads (outside the Bloc).

8. The second MEDIGAST meeting of the summer with S/I is tentatively scheduled for the second week in August, site to be determined. Addressees will know that S/I's wife is expecting their third child c/a 11 August and that S/I intends to be in London at that time if at all possible. Although he told MEDIGAST he would forego a visit to London at that time if it were operationally necessary, he would find it difficult to justify his absence to his wife unless he were to have a truly plausible and urgent cover assignment. We must therefore anticipate in all likelihood that S/I will be out of action for most of the second week of August. In any event, MEDIGAST will probably be able to meet S/I somewhere in Europe when S/I returns to be with his wife and will at that time hope to be in a position to discuss with S/I the best employment of his talents for the balance of the three-month contract period and to pursue with him his longer range utilization as well. Headquarters views, then, are needed both with respect to the weeks immediately following the 15 July meeting referred to in the previous paragraph as well as with respect to the post-August period.

9. Administratively, LCPIPIT has so far funded S/I to the extent of $700.00 and has initiated action to have his salary and nonaccountable operational advance deposited to his Swiss bank account. These payments are being made in advance because of S/I's initially pressing financial needs. It is our understanding that the 1 July and 1 August 1965 deposits of $600.00 to S/I's Swiss bank account will be effected securely and on time through KNAN'l (see DIR 20944 and DIR 21703). Action was also taken to clarify the question of S/I's per diem. We have received his initial accountings for travel, per diem, and operational expenses for the period 8 - 12 June.

10. On the basis of information available to LCPIPIT, S/I has received the following payments from KNAK since he was first contacted in London by George M. KATZENbach in January of this year (we have no record at hand of the KNAK funds passed S/I by PAYMENT OF EXPENSES):

AMOUNT	DATE	COMMENT
$300.00	1/25/65 (c/a)	Ops payment per DIR 78506
400.00	2/23/65	Ops payment per OMLW 21869

400.00	May/65	Ops payment per DIR 04341
100.00	6/2/65	Ops payment per DIR 04341 (signing bonus)
500.00	6/3/65	Ops salary advance for June/65
100.00	6/3/65	Nonaccountable ops advance for June/65

200.00	6/12/65	Travel Advance
500.00	6/14/65	Travel and per diem advance.
TOTAL:	$3,100.00

11. Beginning with the Ops payment in May 1965, these payments have been I/A'd to Headquarters for charge to YQHITCH. In addition to his present salary of $500.00 per month and his $100.00 monthly nonaccountable advance for operational expenses, S/I is entitled to the following under the letter of agreement he signed 3 June 1965:

- a) necessary expenses incurred in connection with such operational travel as may be directed or authorized by OYDUNE.
- b) operational expenses in excess of $100.00 monthly nonaccountable advance as are specifically authorized by OYDUNE.
- c) compensation in an amount mutually agreed upon for the relocation of S/I and his family to a new residence if such relocation is considered desirable by S/I and OYDUNE.
- d) per diem at the rate of $20.00 per day during periods of authorized travel (i.e.: during absence from London).

SECRET//SIAPOK

OFIA P555

In his early talks with the London Station and again in his talks with RODGAST and TIFFANY the Agent has indicated some degree of disenchantment with the organizations and personalities, if not the ideology, of the left-wing factions with which he had been so intimately involved. He has never gone so far as to renounce his birthright and citizenship, nor does he consider himself disloyal after several years of professional anti-FRPFRDE activity. He intimates that he would someday like to return home, though he doubts he would be allowed to live down his past and start a new career in FRPFRDE.

19. On the basis of information available to us we could not say that SIEBOLD/1 is or ever was an ideologically committed Marxist-Leninist. We might say that he has nurtured over the years a smouldering prejudice against the "in" group, both domestically and internationally. He has been an "out" most all of his life, and he has shown a strong attachment to the causes of the downtrodden Cubans, the colonially oppressed Africans, the organizationally subdued "young Turks" of orthodox communist and other leftist movements, etc. There is no question that in his sympathy for such causes he overstepped the bounds of reason and good sense, but it is doubtful that he actually committed any treasonable offense. One has the feeling that S/1 really sought to hedge his bets on the revolutionaries by putting out feelers to KREISKER.

20. There is a strong case for the argument that hard cash plays a significant role in motivating S/1 to cooperate with KREISKER at this point in time. All reports emphasize that he was not just broke, but deeply in debt, when he began talking to London Station. Subsequently he has been receiving what amounts to a salary at a rate somewhat in excess of average for a European journalist, let alone a professional small-time revolutionary. Since he has had no valid cover story for anything other than the first advance(s) from GENESIS, we cannot be sure that he has let his wife, his in-laws, or his immediate circle of associates know the extent of his newly-acquired affluence. He is quite capable of thinking big operationally and has bluntly stated that it takes money to "move" in Algiers and that "poverty is no virtue in the 'Third World'".

21. But S/1 does not appear to be an out and out mercenary. There must be other factors than money alone that would lead him to cooperate with KREISKER. It could well be that he is reacting philosophically to an outlook on life that let him down despite years of devoted cultivation. In the long debriefings he rarely, if ever, mentioned anyone who he felt had really accomplished anything as a professional left-wing revolutionary. There are indications that he regards his activities over recent years as somewhat unrewarding, though there is little indication that he didn't enjoy much of what he did or that he doesn't consider the cause of the national liberation movements a just and honorable cause. He may, simply, have reappraised the results of some years of revolutionary activity with a somewhat jaundiced eye and decided it was time for a change.

22. Certainly S/1 builds a convincing case about the reasons for his break with IERN C, but it must also be noted that ideology is not among them. If anything, it would seem he was reacting to a breach of contract and perhaps wounded pride. The net result seemed to be a well of resentment against one individual, which resentment fermented into spite and determination to "get even." If this assumption is granted, then the letter he had published in ZEUTHEN and the manuscript he submitted to GENESIS are both explainable and explain much. It was his involvement with these publications that triggered KREISKER's operational interest in him, and we initiated contact at a period when he was, perhaps, basking in (what he probably considered) the success of his attack on IERN A.

23. Looked at from still another angle, S/1's future prospects in January of this year (both in his professional and his personal life) were anything but bright for: he was jobless, in debt, to some extent cast off by the revolutionary movement, apparently felt homeless (as far as having something to which he could return in FRPFRDE), and (from what scraps of information we can piece together) was not experiencing a mutually agreeable marital life. (He asserts he was unfaithful and that his wife knew it. We have learned from KREISKER's talks with the wife that she was unfaithful in her turn, though we have no confirmation of this from S/I). In such a situation KHSARK was able to offer S/I an opportunity to, in effect, begin anew, get out of a hole, rebuild his own self-esteem, and perhaps even build up some credit toward an eventual return to PRAPHEN under conditions which he would find bearable.

24. It is interesting that in his long conversations with RODIGAST he should raise the question of his motivation as if to reassure GUYOMÉ that he was "on the level." He protested that we must not think that he had taken on this job just to "get out of a hole" for three months and explained that he wasn't really in a hole. He claimed that his debts to his brother-in-law were not a pressing matter at all. (However, during his LOFLUTTEZI examination we are told that the area in which he reacted most strongly was that concerning personal obligations, especially financial. We were probing to find out if he was indeed under some obligation, financial or otherwise, to certain of his revolutionary associates of the past two and a half years, and what ensued was an outpouring of all the small and not so small debts he owed virtually everyone he knew. Foremost among these was the debt of some $ 1,500 to his brother-in-law. Whether or not he feels pressed to repay is not as important as the fact that there seem to be times when it weighs heavily on his mind.)

25. Giving S/I the last word, the following report from RODIGAST on his 14 June conversation with the Agent should be given careful consideration: "It was clear that he was telling me, without spelling it out in words, that he had made up his mind to cooperate with us because, or partly because, he had decided he wanted to be on our side. He even used expressions like 'our side'. I had the feeling that he did not want to say outright that he was changing his political orientation for fear that we would not believe him, but that in fact he might very well be doing so; I think there was something genuine in his protestation that he wasn't with us 'only for the money'."

HANDBLING & GUIDANCE:

26. The least that can be said of S/I in summarizing his relationship with his KHSARK contacts so far is that he is not docile and passive. He appears to be a self-starter with a sense of what is necessary to get an operation off the ground. From his account of his work for KHN C it would appear that he can honestly claim a great deal of credit for putting the English edition into business.

27. To date S/I has expressed no reluctance to undertake his current mission nor to consider other missions for KHSARK which might work a hardship on him or place his person or reputation in jeopardy. His responsiveness, in fact, encourages us to believe that he will accept assignments which permit him to move easily in those revolutionary left circles which are natural to him and which comprise, in effect, his natural target. He has, of course, made a case for working out of Paris, Rome, or ~~Grenoble~~ rather than Algiers or ~~Djakarta~~, but this was prior to his entering into a formal relationship with GUYOMÉ.

28. RODIGAST feels that he has been able to establish a good degree of working rapport with S/I and perhaps even some degree of personal rapport. They have had some half-dozen meetings so far, including three working sessions in Paris. RODIGAST has stressed to him the vital importance of good security habits, not the least of which involves such personal behavior as will keep him out of compromising situations (in respect to his work for KHSARK).

29. S/I has been on time for all his meetings with RODIGAST and has complied well with instructions; he submitted without hesitation to the LOFLUTTEZI and agreed to work with S/W (accepting the risks involved in disposal of the working materials). S/I has not failed to remind RODIGAST of the probable cost of his upkeep and operational activities while in Algiers and has been assured that RODIGAST "fought for the $20.00 per diem

35. S/1's family situation presents some cause for concern, also. As noted in the discussion on motivation, he has been receiving funds since January with only GUYOMA to give as a source. His wife, who is a convinced leftist, is presently suspicious of his activities, he says, largely because he received a phone call from PAPRIQUE London in January. He explained it was a PAPRIQUE journalist passing through who wished to talk with him, to which she was supposed to have retorted: "Why should someone from PAPRIQUE be interested in you, and, moreover, why should you be interested in working for anything or anyone from PAPRIQUE?" S/1 told RODIGAST that the backtracking effort initiated by LORO 8004 did not fully dispel her skepticism. S/1's reaction to the PLUTON examination on the question of "what his wife thinks" suggests that the matter is not laid to rest.

36. S/1 seems to be most concerned that his wife not find out he is working for GUYOMA, let alone KUBARK, and we presume he has reason to feel she would probably say or do something, whether deliberate or not, that would compromise him in his present situation. We do not know the history of S/1's marriage, but we have received indications from him that lead us to believe he could not count on her discretion and loyalty in all circumstances. His relationship with his wife, therefore, must be watched with some care to insure that it does not comprise an undue hazard or that she does not become vulnerable in some way to forces inimical to his effectiveness in his work for KUBARK.

37. Aside from speculation about possible repercussions in this area of their marital relationship, there remains the question of cover for some $3,100 passed S/1 by KUBARK in the past six months. His wife has been in the journalism business long enough to know that virtually unemployed journalists are not usually given travel and salary advances merely for the asking, especially when their press credentials are largely nominal or the nominal sponsor has yet to go into publication. Thus, we have reason to believe she has some rather nagging doubts as to the legitimacy of S/1's present cover job. This is implicit in Paragraph 5 of the attachment at OCELA 43,272.

38. On 15 June S/1 told RODIGAST his wife told him on the phone that a letter to him from IGEN D warned him to be careful "as things might be 'hot' for him in Algeria." IGEN D had apparently heard of S/1's forthcoming trip from contacts in New York and Paris, and S/1 surmises this means news of his summer's travels must be rather common knowledge by now.

39. At TIFFANY's request S/1 let IGEN E know he was in Paris, and S/1 says that latter "came rushing around" to see him. S/1's report on this contact was passed to the Paris Station 17 June by LCFPTT. In the report is S/1's assessment that IGEN E would probably be willing to talk to RODIGAST's "service." We shall discuss this case further with Paris Station, but in the meantime it should be noted for the record that as long as S/1 is said by many to be a KUBARK agent, it would not be unreasonable to assume that IGEN E might connect an approach by an GUYOMA representative with his recent conversations with S/1. Therefore, the possibility of a flap here should not be ignored.

40. As far as S/1's contacts with KUBARK, he knows no one by true name and his case officer will continue to use an alias in all future contacts. At the same time, there is the ever-present danger that he may some day come to know RODIGAST's true name because of the number of acquaintances they have in common in Paris. It was largely for this reason that RODIGAST will avoid holding future operational meetings with S/1 in Paris. RODIGAST has already reported the rather unsettling experience of having S/1 tell him: "I think I've seen you somewhere before." RODIGAST says this is quite possible. Were S/1 ever to stay in Paris for a considerable length of time the chances are not remote that RODIGAST's identity would be compromised to S/1.

TERMINATION:

41. The question of termination is not academic at this time, for explicit in the letter of agreement which S/I signed is his termination on 1 September 1965 unless specific conditions are met. It is doubtful that KIRKAK will indeed terminate S/I on that date unless such action is made imperative for reasons of security or of gross malfeasance on his part.

42. In the event of the termination of S/I we foresee at this time no great cause for concern about possible repercussions against KIRKAK personnel or installations. In addition to the use of aliases, SOUDAST's meetings with him will be in third countries, and S/I has not been passed classified information. He does keep in his possession materials for the ~~use of S/W System #64~~. He received training in the use of these materials (and underwent his LOPLUTRA) in ~~the apartment~~ of two LOPLUT contract personnel. This ~~apartment~~, on LOPLUT safehouse, was used only once previously for a clandestine meeting, and ~~it will not be used again~~ for at least two months.

43. Should it prove necessary to terminate S/I the greatest danger which we can anticipate at this time grows out of his considerable skill as a writer and the possibility that this skill might be used to attack KIRKAK or GUYGE in some way, perhaps from the forum of the national liberation movement propaganda machinery which he has now forsaken. His knowledge of our operations and personnel has been kept to a minimum. Since the danger of his pen speaking with great force or effectiveness is, we believe, not great and a problem which, though we must anticipate it, we believe to be remote.

The KIRKAK OPERATIONAL REQUIREMENTS:

44. All concerned would agree that a KIRKAK agent who is unable to service KIRKAK operational requirements would not be worth his keep. At the same time, it would be presumptuous to expect that in a situation where the agent is being handled at arm's length and under such disadvantages in time and distance as in S/I's case, KIRKAK's operational requirements could be regularly and, if necessary, speedily measured against the agent's capabilities and specific requirements levied on the agent.

45. So far in KIRKAK's relationship with S/I we have outlined a general target area for him, levied the requirement that he prove to KIRKAK he can effectively penetrate that target area and operate in place, and levied subsidiary KUTER requirements for him to service as a by-product of his basic operational task. What we have assigned, in effect, is a short term operational mission upon which longer term operations might be based.

46. There is evidence in the realms of "testimony" KIRKAK has taken from S/I that he is a man who likes to operate, act, produce. There is also evidence that he, like any other human, consciously seeks approval and recognition of his work. The question to be posed is: Has KIRKAK at this time, or will it have on 1 September 1965, an assignment for S/I in which he can find satisfaction in producing a marketable product and find that approval and recognition which he requires? We must be more specific with him than to say: "Go out to ~~Djakarta~~ and see what you can dig up. We'll meet you again in two months for discussions." Rather, it would be well at this stage to review with the various area divisions those geographic areas in which S/I's talents could be fully exploited (~~Chile with PUEST, Venezuela as an FAIR penetration, Djakarta as an AAJA staffer, Ghana as a DAA writer, Tanzania as a Government Radio editor, etc., etc.~~) and to have a definite assignment for S/I in hand at the moment we negotiate the extension of his contract.

47. Certainly the sudden change of leadership in Algeria can be expected to affect the national liberation movement and personalities in that movement who have drawn succor from the Ben Bella regime. As noted in the section on security, it is reasonable to assume that S/I will be in a less then fortuitous position if his efforts to reassert himself on the national liberation movement stage are to meet with brickbats from IHEW A from a front row seat. ALGI 6171 and PARI 1078 tend to support the estimate that S/I's friends in the Ministry of Information may now be gone, while IHEW A's Algerian friends may soon be in positions of power. While it is still too early to assume that such a situation will arise, it is not too soon to assess the possible damage this could do S/I in the general target area so far assigned him and to watch closely for signs that he may truly be beyond operational usefulness to KGBARK. We would hope this should not be case to pass, but we cannot ignore the possibility.

SECRET//~~REFID~~

48. In the event, then, that the next two month's activities compromise S/I's credentials in the national liberation movement, where should we go from there? One suggestion would be a TDY to ZETTEL where his brain might be picked for operational leads and KFTURK, KERISK, and KF-VOLP information. He could also be urged to write out and edit a number of exposés on fraud, deception, and general double-dealing in the national revolution movement and in certain communist circles. He might find a job with IHEW B who may well need a new crutch if S/I's reports of his diminishing influence are to be given credence. In short, steps ought to be taken now to define the alternatives awaiting S/I as of 1 September 1965.

17.10 hours: Mark SCHLEIFER calls from the Embassy to Yope's flat, speaks to Yope's wife, Galina, says he, "Maria and the children" will spend the night with the Yopes. His wife and children are at present in Pablo's flat (Note: Both flats are in Park West).

17.30 hours: Mark SCHLEIFER called at Embassy by Richard GIBSON, who suggests their sharing a flat in ALGIERS. Both need to brush up their French before "the others pour in" to ALGIERS. Mark agrees to go to Richard's flat, 30 Stockleigh Hall, Prince Albert Road, to discuss various points. Mark mentions that his wife is an "Afro-American". Richard says that integration is much worse here than in the U.S.A.

2nd June

11.00 hours: Yope calls the C.Y.T.E., speaks to telex room, asks whether they can send a telex to Yope's brother in Rumania. He explains that his (Yope's) brother is Cuban Ambassador to Rumania and is due to go to Cuba today or tomorrow. He wants first to establish whether his brother is still in Rumania. If he is, Roberto wants the following message passed: "If you see Leo HIRSCHEN in Cuba, please pass this message to him - 'If you come to LONDON, Dennis PHOMBAH is anxious to see you'. (Signed) Roberto Yope".

3 June

12.30 hours: Pablo calls Cuban Embassy (believed PARIS) (Obtained by direct calling.) Speaks to Esther, then asks for Paco, who mentions that Guillermo has to return to Cuba, because his daughter has a cerebral haemorrhage. Pablo says he and Miriam are also "going to return". Paco asks "But they haven't called you?" Pablo replies "No". Gives no further explanation, but will write to Paco. Mentions that Mark SCHLEIFER is coming to PARIS and will telephone Paco. Guillermo, Paco remarks, has already caught his plane to PRAQUE. Miriam is alone. Guillermo had been in touch with FRANQUI, and ROA had agreed to his going. This leaves the Commercial Attaché.

Talked to Cy Goodrich this morning about STEBONY. He feels that he is on the level with us, that he is legitimately disenchanted with the far left, that he sees himself as a loyal American, that PATERNOSTER was incorrect in saying that STEBONY would find it morally repugnant to act as a political action agent but would willingly serve as an PI collection asset (which doesn't make a whole lot of sense.) STEBONY was not in the least reluctant to take the LOFTINGER pass and it apparently clean. The cover is admittedly a bit flimsy, but is supplemented by a connection with Tunisian Liberation for which he will do some layout work and writing. Cy believes that he understands perhaps better than he did the need for cover and attribution of income. Contract provides for $500 a month plus $100 non-accountable ops expenses plus $10 a day while in Algiers, plus $20 a day while in travel status, 1 June through 31 August, renewable for a two year period if mutually desirable and satisfactory, with 30 day termination clause. We have told ~~SECRET~~ JAGUP of our recruitment of STEBONY - Cy does not believe that they are in direct touch with him, but that they are in contact with friends of his, particularly one ~~MARSHALL~~ or some such name. I asked Cy what STEBONY had been asked to do for us in Algiers, and he replied "to work himself into a position of access - to get information on factions and all developments in the conferences which have not been publicized." I asked if he had been given any requirements which dealt with strictly Algerian matters and he said No, that Rodigast had been told that we would send further requirements for the meeting tentatively scheduled with STEBONY in ~~Rome~~ or ~~Tangier~~ around 16 June.

I talked to ~~Bob Wiley~~, who will draw up a list of requirements to send RODIGAST.

Cy Goodrich and I agreed that I would open ops files on STEBONY, even though we have no project yet, and he will give me the contents of his soft file to include in it. He is also having the 20A file tidied up by RI and will have it charged to AF/1 he can exploit Ideon A as a "walking credential" in Algiers a unique way to suggest he himself is one of Ideon A's "boys". It should be noted on the other hand, that this situation provides Ideon A a unique means of monitoring STEPHENY/1's activities and contacts.

3. Of primary interest at this moment however is the fact that Ideon A has expressed to STEPHENY/1 his dissatisfaction with the progress to date in getting his book (Idea F) published in English. Ideon A claims that an Australian is supposed to be working on a translation but that he has heard nothing from him in over six months. STEPHENY/1 then told Ideon A that he himself could do the translation job with the aid of friends but that he would have to spend some time with Ideon A to work over fine points and to write together a new chapter updating the book. In this way STEPHENY/1 feels he could cement his personal relationship with Ideon A.

4. There are obviously operational and station policy questions that should be considered in this context. First of all, our sole reporter on the STEPHENY/1-Ideon A relationship is STEPHENY/1 himself. Is he really seeking to set up a meaningful operational gambit to be exploited by EURAM, or is he seeking to regain status among his former peers? We tend to believe the former on the basis of the results of STEPHENY/1's LCFUTTER examination and his long conversations with his ~~deep cover~~ case officer. Secondly, would the damage to the PNRD/P national interest interest in the publication of Ideon A's book in English outweigh the operational gain to be made by putting STEPHENY/1 in Ideon A's confidence. STEPHENY/1 argues that, on the contrary, the publication of the book in English could hurt no one except possibly Ideon A himself, because STEPHENY/1 claims the book is a tiresome polemic against one small communist group by another small communist group. EURAM has no intention of recommending that EURAM help get the book in print in any case for that would be Ideon A's own problem. Moreover, if STEPHENY/1 did not undertake the translating job, the Australian would probably come through before too long anyway.

5. We are sure that adversaries can see in this situation the seeds of a useful operational contact with Ideon A who, according to various reports STEPHENY/1 is receiving from other of his contacts in the pro-Chinese factions of the European Communist Parties, is starting to lose his grip on his own organization.

6. In any event, unless advised to the contrary, we intend to encourage STEPHENY/1 to continue developing his relationship with Ideon A, especially as regards translation of the book. We are forwarding to Headquarters (wcc) a copy of the book and request that the appropriate office in EURAM be approached immediately and asked to provide, on a priority basis, an English-language translation which we can pass to STEPHENY/1. He could then recruit this translation somewhat and involve his wife in the editing of it presenting the finished product to Ideon A as a family effort. Of particular importance from a critical point of view is that translations of quotations from non-francophone sources (Barb and Lenin for example) should be consistent with the "official" English-language version of the quotations.

7. The time element involved is this: EURAM Career Agent Rufus F. BOGIGAN will be meeting STEPHENY/1 in Rome on or about 15 July. At that time he should have some firm word from EURAM on the status of the translation effort. In matter of fact, of course, the ideal situation would be to have the translation in hand at that time though we cannot gauge from here whether that is within the realm of possibility. In any case BOGIGAN would have to have the translation definitely in hand the first week of August when he will be leaving ~~Paris~~ for his second one meeting with STEPHENY/1.

1. Following is the full text of the JAGUAR letter, a part of which was transmitted under ref:  "We have received the following two items of intelligence about S/1: 1. Some time in May this year, S/1 said that he would be going to Tunisia on 15th June to work on the staff of the paper "L'Action."  2. After his quarrel with Jacques VERGES in 1964, S/1 received £200 as "personal financial assistance" from Jacques GRIFFA, the leader of the pro-Chinese Communist faction in Belgium. Nils ANDERSSON also gave him financial help.  Our sources were not able to say when the financial assistance was given to S/1 but presumably that from GRIFFA was made available some time between July and November last year."  3. London has some doubts about whether S/1 in fact received this much money from GRIFFA. We suspect that he has told people this to enhance his stature as a "Chinese agent"; we still wonder, though, what funds he may have been covering this way, since we had not contacted him as of the time in question. Perhaps, as a result of ref, LCPIPIT may shed some light on this point.

1. KNUOLP Career Agent Rufus P. ROGIGAST is now the deep cover name officer for SFRANCY/1 a newly-acquired potential reactivation asset targeted on the pro-Chinese revolutionary movements of Africa Asia and Latin America. On or about 15 July 1965 SFRANCY/1 will proceed from his current base of operations (Algiers) to meet with ROGIGAST in Rome per Item A.

2. While in Rome SFRANCY/1 plans to stay with Item B. Moreover Item B's apartment may be used as a meeting site for ROGIGAST and SFRANCY/1 when Item B is at work. In view of this we request Station and Headquarters traces (KNUOLP and OCINWV only) on Item B.

3. While in Rome ROGIGAST will more than likely require Station support in the nature of picking and passing facilities for documents cash travel advances for SFRANCY/1 (which are to be T/A'd to Headquarters charge YEFITCH) and cable communications facilities should the need arise. ROGIGAST is known to Rome Station Officer Lowell P. MURPHY and perhaps others in the Station. ROGIGAST is also known to and knows the witting personnel in FRENAGALE.

4. We would appreciate hearing from Rome Station at your earliest convenience concerning your capability to render the type of support noted above. ROGIGAST would plan to make contact with the Station through FRENAGALE unless the Station should desire an alternate contact plan.

16.40 hours: Mrs. Sarah GIBSON (ph), of the Press Department, Tunisian Embassy, calls Cuban Embassy, explains to Margo that she wants Pablo to send, as previously discussed, some copies of "Revolucion Pueblo y Cultura" and "Lunes de Revolucion", either just on temporary loan, or if some copies can be spared, for retention by the Tunisian Embassy. The Press Secretary in the Tunisian Embassy is on the point of leaving to go back to TUNIS (going on 25th May) and before doing so, he very much wants to have a look at those papers. Margo promises to arrange this matter with Pablo, for delivery of copies to the Press Department, Tunisian Embassy, 29 Prince's Gate. Sarah GIBSON asks for delivery today if possible, if not, the following morning.

16.50 hours: Pablo calls Mrs GIBSON at MCN 4133 on Christian name terms, asks how her husband, Dick, and the children are, confirms that he will let her have some copies of "Raega" (ph) given to him by a Cuban in LONDON, also "Pueblo y Cultura", but has no copies of "Revolucion". Confirms he will come to Sarah's house on Saturday afternoon (29th May) with Maruja and the children if it is fine, but he will come anyhow, as he wants to have a talk with Sarah. The GIBSON's home number is PRI 8778. Sarah remarks that the Tunisian Press Secretary is being sent back to Tunisia to take charge of a newspaper, and he has been most impressed by the Cuban layout in their publications. He needs the copies to give him ideas for his own work, and Sarah wants the influence to be Cuban.

1. Transmitted herewith are copies (one for KUDISK, one for LCPIPIT) of the processed material resulting from the initial series of debriefings of STBONY/1. Again London Station is indebted to Roberta L. HORRILL for her superb work in preparing this excellent study.

2. We have made most of this material available to JAGUAR. The sections headed "Interest of Foreign Communist and Leftist Groups in the American Negro Problem," "The Robert Williams Case," "Black Nationalism," and "The American Negro" were not passed to JAGUAR.

3. We are retaining one copy of the entire study, which we are making available for review by ODAINTY/London, who have expressed interest in this material. We trust that ODAINTY Headquarters will be appropriately advised of the contents of these papers.

4. We see no reason for London Station to retain this copy in the files, and propose to destroy it unless Headquarters asks us to send it on to some other addressee. Similarly, we plan to destroy our copy of the rough transcript of the debriefing (previously forwarded under ODA 42,706, 9 March 1965) unless Headquarters would like us to send it on. In either case, let us know of your wishes regarding these items by, say, 15 July. In the absence of any instructions by that time, we will destroy them.

Following is the text of a JAGUAR letter, dated 2 June:

"According to a secret and reliable source, STEBONY/1 has stated that he is working for the Belgian newspaper 'La Voix du Peuple'. He will be leaving London shortly for the Continent and will later be going to Algiers. He has told his friends that his job with 'La Voix du Peuple' turned up in time to save him and his family from 'starvation'."

1. In the course of an informal discussion on 8 June with the JAGUAR officer most familiar with the history of STEBONY/1 (and our relationship with him), the JAGUAR officer commented that he was frankly surprised at the volume of sexual activity of the African Communists and far-leftists. His first reference was to types such as Jeanne PISCH, but he broadened the comment to include Rosalynde AINSLIE and others, and of course there were the recipients of these girls' affections as well - Africans (usually black) such as Kenyatta and Biko.

2. The JAGUAR officer then added that S/1's wife was also known to have shared her favors with other black men than S/1 - to such an extent, at any rate, that her promiscuity had come to JAGUAR's notice. (I mentioned that this must be some new news, since we had not heard of it before, but he indicated that this was old news, and apparently not of the type to be considered "derogatory.") The JAGUAR officer went on to say that S/1 himself has put in a certain amount of time in the beds of other white girls, and perhaps this is how he knows of the promiscuous propensities of some of them.

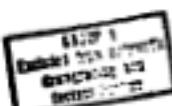

3. While S/1 has not particularly affected prudery in our talks, neither has he professed himself to be a great and universal lover.

1. On 4 June STREONY/1 provided the following information on the personality and living pattern of Subject which we hope will be helpful to COVJRDAL in mounting an eventual recruitment approach. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Subject is smarting with desire for revenge against those who have cut him off from all meaningful political activity and probably from a source of income as well. (NOTE: Subject told 5/1 that currently, unfortunately he is receiving his P.I.M.D. with the equivalent of $1,000 per month.) He is particularly angry with someone who owes him some money. b. An intellectual, Subject has never been particularly effective in the area of practical organizational politics. He is rather weak in the sense that in a conflict situation he tends to pull back. In other words he is not aggressive by nature. At the same time, 5/1 felt certain that Subject's indignation and desire for revenge were deeply seated in his emotions and he would not be able to rationalize away these feelings. c. Subject is basically a friendly and courteous person. d. Subject speaks French and Spanish but no English. His wife, described by 5/1 as a younger personality than Subject, does speak English. She teaches school. e. Subject has mixed feelings towards CHIPIA, but uppermost is his desire to rehabilitate himself with the Belgian "guileiter." It is thought that if someone telephoned Subject and made reference to "Jacques" or "a message from a friend in Belgium" Subject would most likely come out for a meeting. f. Subject has irregular working hours at the CNRB and it would be easy for him to leave the job for an hour or two without anyone becoming suspicious. He works on research projects and more or less sets his own hours. g. Asked if he thought Subject would be in a position to provide much information on the PCE Pro-Chicom dissident groups, 5/1 said that he thought Subject was well-informed and, if willing, would be

1. Cover Situation. S/I was not successful in lining up any cover arrangement in the U.S. Around 28 May he received word from New York of a flat turn-down on his offer to serve as correspondent for Monthly Review. ~~Nero-Schneiffer~~, who was ~~on-the-spot~~ got this job, and ~~EN's~~ chief editor Leo Hubermann plans to attend ~~2nd Bandung~~ himself. Locally, however, S/I was able to line up the following sponsors (though none is in a position to pay much for his services they collectively provide him with sufficient reason for being in Algiers; he will let on that his travel costs were advanced him by his wealthy brother-in-law):

- a. Cinnamon, a sort of British Ebony scheduled to bring out its first issue on 20 June.
- b. West Indian Gazette, described in earlier correspondence, will provide S/I with a letter of accreditation.
- c. Institute of Race Relations. This politically neutral, academic outfit publishes a monthly newsletter. Connected with Chatham House, the Institute's secretary, Sheilla Paterson is a good friend of S/I. She has asked him to do a paper back book for the Institute on Africa. Again, though they could pay little for this effort it constitutes a highly respectable piece of cover.

During the last two months, S/I has explained his income to his wife as coming from advances, expense money and articles for Encounter. This has not pleased her, as she dislikes both the Congress for Cultural Freedom and Lasky, but has at least satisfied her curiosity. To explain Katzenbach's telephone calls to his home (K. identified himself to S/I's wife ~~xxx~~ as "Mr. Wilson") S/I had to improvise a purely notional affiliation with an American feature story syndication service called "Metropolitan Features". This will help explain some of his income to his wife, but will not be used with others.

2. The above skeletal cover will hopefully be reinforced in Algiers where S/I will scour around for bits and pieces of work for his many contacts there. His visits to Grippo and Andersson on his way to Algiers will also help to fill out his ostensible sources of income, though S/I has agreed not to overplay this angle. In other words, he will not pretend that these two have given him any funds, but if others want to make the assumption, so much the better.

3. On 1 and 2 June, Tiffany expounded at some length on the importance of S/I trying to get an Opposition (Soviet, Cuban, Algerian or ChiCom) sponsor for any further cover, such as the researching of a book or establishment of an Afro-Asian news service for U.S. leftist periodicals and/or individuals. While we could easily set him up in this enterprise, we do not want to for the simple reason that this would at best only provide him with a superficial sort of access. What we want him to strive for is Opposition sponsorship that will lead him into one of the nerve centers of the national liberation movement in Algiers or Djakarta. (S/I ruled out Cairo on the grounds that his wife is Jewish) S/I accepted this reasoning and agreed to go for a position that holds out the prospect of long-range penetration in depth.

4. Turnover to Rodigast. After getting S/1's unhesitating agreement to an LCPLUTTER examination and his signature on a Secrecy Agreement on 2 June, Tiffany introduced him to Rodigast, under the alias "Paul Weller" on the morning of 3 June. It was explained that Rodigast would serve as S/1 point of contact in the future. S/1 and Rodigast hit it off well from the outset, the latter's knowledge of Paris and Tangiers-based American beatniks and other intellectuals serving him has laid well in the rapport-building process. Rodigast ~~will~~ ^{is} making on firm meeting arrangements for Paris and has discussed arrangements for meeting S/1 at least twice during the summer outside Algiers. Final agreement on a mid July meeting will be made in Paris to conform to a normal pattern by S/1 and ~~xxxxx~~ arrangements which S/1 succeeds in developing in Lausanne and Paris. In the process of discussing communications Rodigast is also imparting instruction in good security practices on the part of S/1. Rodigast will instruct S/1 in the use of SW in Paris. Hopefully, Rodigast will be able to spend a day or two with S/1 in Paris, even though we want S/1 to get to Algiers as soon as possible.

5. Financial Arrangements. After discussing all possible alternatives, it was decided that the most secure arrangement would be to give S/1 an advance of the equivalent of $200 for his travel London-Brussels-Lausanne-Paris and per diem and his an advance of the equivalent of $600 for his June salary plus non-accountable expenses. These advances were made and signed for on 3 June. One ~~xxxxxx~~ important reason for the large cash advance was the fact that S/1 ~~xxxxxxx~~ was completely broke, and he had to take some funds available to his wife to meet expenses and pay off a 65 pound Sterling debt to his brother-in-law before leaving on his trip. (S/1 will explain the funds as the last of the advances and payments for articles by Encounter and other publications.) For essentially the same reason (poverty) we agreed to make S/1's July and August salary payments in advance (to be paid into his Swiss bank account on the first of each month). We recognise that this procedure is according to S/l told the Cubans about it, since the CPUSA hoped to discredit S/l and put their own people in touch with the Cubans. S/l told the Cubans a tall tale which he hopes they believed (among those he spoke to was Roa): he said that during the French drive against the FLN various people were writing letters in support of the Algerians and signing prominent names to them, and that the Harrington forgery was carried out in this spirit.

d. The hostility to S/l from Ainslee and McGowan had as its origin their anger that Vergès had given S/l a job that should have gone to an Englishman (or woman); they felt that Africa was a problem of the British CP; and so they spread the story about S/l.

e. Rodigast recalled that William Gardner Smith had once written a letter to the Paris Herald Tribune denying that a pro-Castro letter which appeared several days earlier signed W G Smith had been sent by him. At the time (perhaps 18 months ago) Smith told Rodigast, who questioned him on the matter, "Oh, that's an old story." Without indicating that he knew Smith, Rodigast raised the question of Smith's Herald Tribune letter to S/l, who said he had never seen it or heard of it before.

f. Rodigast gave S/l the recent clipping from Le Monde which indicated that Patricia MacGowan's husband or lover Carlos Lanza had been arrested by the Algerians in connection with the investigation of the Delgado killing. Rodigast warned S/l that we did not know whether a charge would be made, or indeed whether Lanza had already been released along with others arrested at the same time. Nevertheless S/l thought the clipping would be useful to show to those not terribly familiar with the details, but who might be favorably influenced by a report showing that the people who denounced S/l as a "CIA agent" had also sent Delgado to his death.

7. Questioned on his residence status vis a vis French and Swiss authorities, S/l said:

a. He feels he can come and go to Switzerland without this goal, but it is not certain that he could get the original fee back from Schwarzenberg.

6. For future contacts, Rodigast gave S/I "an alias I am using:

James Sunderland, c/o American Express, 11 rue Scribe, Paris 9, the
"c/o American Express" being optional. Rodigast will also look into the possibility of emergency contact via want ads placed in Le Republicain or Le Peuple (the latter is preferred by S/I), which Rodigast believes will be purchased and read daily by LCP/PIT during the summer anyway-- they arrive in Paris a day or two after publication. S/I could advertise for a stenographer able to take perfect English shorthand, for example.

ACTION REQUESTED -
1. During a recent meeting, STEBONY/1 called my attention to the book Political Africa, by Donald SEGAL, published London 1961 by Stevens and Sons, Ltd. STEBONY/1 used the book to look up a brief bio squib on, as it happened, Patrick Duncan. He commented that the book, although out of date and far from objective (one of the collaborators was Rosalynde AINSLEY), was extremely useful to him. 2. I subsequently got a copy of the book, and find it useful. Nonetheless, it is far out of date. It would appear that there is a great need for an up-dated version, more comprehensive and more objective. STEBONY/1 might be the ideal person to work up such a book (he could even put some of his wife's talents to work, in such a project), and, in turn, such a project could augment nicely his cover for, say, a year. 3. For Headquarters consideration then, the following suggestions: Contact Praeger (who published Political Africa in the U.S.) or another appropriate firm, and lay on a commission to compile such a compendium of facts, figures and faces on the African scene. Have them in turn commission STEBONY/1 to do the job, and provide him with enough of an advance to help cover his needs for a period of a year, say, starting after STEBONY/1's summer in Algiers. (Alternatively, of course, STEBONY/1 could be instructed to come to Praeger with such a proposal, which we could encourage Praeger to accept.) This could run concurrently with STEBONY/1's news-letter, if it materializes, and without any apparent conflict. It could also afford him additional cover for travel and interviews, as well as funds. And a useful reference tool could result. 4. This is just a suggestion, but we'd like to know what you think of it.

MEMORANDUM FOR: See Distribution
FROM : CA/CF; CI/ECG
SUBJECT : Richard Gibson

1. Areas of Knowledgeability. A reading of the transcription of Gibson's taped debriefing clearly underlines KATZENBACH's assessment that Gibson possesses an encyclopedic knowledge of personalities and groups ranging from Zanzibar to the U.S. It is not always clear from the debriefing to what extent Gibson enjoys either a first-hand knowledge or even a friendly relationship with specific individuals or groups. What is clear is that Gibson moves in a milieu on which we presently have very little coverage; that he is already a member of this loosely defined society and thus can be presumed capable of developing new contacts or strengthening old ones by means of present and past associations.

It is difficult to categorize or divine what this milieu is. It is not the world of communist parties -- although it contains a preponderance of communists; and it does not seem to be a society which necessarily revolves about the Chinese. The primary common denominator covering most of the personalities involved in Gibson's reporting is some association with the revolutionary movement in Africa -- particularly Algeria. A secondary means of characterizing these contacts is a correlation with the radical French and Belgian left which lies outside such organized party structures as the PSU, PCF, BCP. (His main access to Chinese communists runs through Jacques GRIPPA in Belgium and Nils ANDERSEN in Switzerland with whom he claims to be on good terms at the present time.) Another common thread, almost as general, is association with Trotskyism, although the meaning or clarification of this political description is never spelled out. In general, Gibson displays a good and often personal knowledge of target areas which might be grouped as follows:

a. African exile revolutionary circles in France, Algeria and London, including the PAC, ANC, MPLA, NPA, and other less organized pockets.

b. European leftist sympathizers of the liberation movement in Africa.

c. Algerians or Algerian contacts in Europe who were associated with the war for independence.

d. Algerian personalities currently active or occupying official positions in Algiers.

e. The exile American Negro community.

f. Minor political writers and polemicists in exile leftist circles in Europe.

2. Access and Limitations on Access. There apparently has been circulated a charge that Gibson is a CIA agent. (This is reflected in his 201 as dating from his days with the FPCC.) In dealing with this question, however, KATZENBACH cites Gibson's own belief that he is still able to operate in the circles which would be of interest to us. It is, of course, difficult to tell from his debriefing the extent and seriousness of this charge against Gibson, insofar as it affects his bona fides. It does seem that in Gibson's milieu, gossip, personal attacks, muddled loyalties and an aura of conspiratorial confusion are everyday facts of life and that personal contact and effectiveness in building rapport would far outweigh such critical personal charges -- which, indeed, probably circulate about most people. At the present time, for reasons not entirely clear, Gibson feels that he would be unwelcome and restricted were he to visit ~~Ghana~~, and, in fact, would not like to make such a trip. He has indicated, on the other hand, that he has friends in Algeria and believes he could probably get some kind of job there or at least find a receptive and generally friendly reception. He also appears to have some contact and standing with the ~~Indonesian government~~, since he claims their ~~London Embassy~~ offered him employment. It is not known to what extent he might be able to parley such a contact into employment in ~~Djakarta~~ or some form of official association in Europe, although these questions could be explored further. The termination of his association with Revolution and Verges would not, according to his account of it, discredit him in the eyes of those who might have been partisans of the ideological line which this magazine purveyed. According to his account, Verges is not in good standing with the pro-Chinese like Grippe or even the Chinese, and that his (Gibson's) quarrel with Verges over unpaid salary is well known. While this may not be unbiased, it is apparently true that he has lodged a claim for payment against Verges, and thus is not in the position of having been expelled from Revolution for ideological deviation. As Gibson recounts it, it is Verges, not he, who is discredited.

3. Motivation and Readiness to Cooperate. The debriefing reflects between the lines what KATZENBACH judges in his covering dispatch to be a readiness to collect information for us knowing that we are an official agency and probably suspecting that we are EUBARK. His professed motivation is monetary, and frankly so, although a certain degree of fatigue with his past profession of ideological punditry is discernable. There are also a number of indications that Gibson would like to rehabilitate himself lest he be forced to make his living for an indefinite period of time in an environment that he finds both unpleasant and materially unrewarding. It is not possible, of course, to make an intelligent judgment from this debriefing on the firmness and consistency with which he might undertake continuing assignments for us, but this is not an unusual area of uncertainty with a new agent and one which a probationary period should dispel. (It should be noted that in one instance, he volunteered a name as an operational lead -- i.e., as someone whom we might find it worthwhile to look up. He also provided what is apparently an accommodation address in Bogota for Chinese mailings.)

4. Long-Range Usefulness and Initial Targetting. Gibson's long-range usefulness, of course, would depend not only on his effectiveness and dependability, but on the opportunities which will emerge and take shape as a result of his initial activity. As a general proposition, he can be viewed as an intelligence collection asset targetted at radical independence movements, pro-Chinese personalities and organizations, and official personalities in newly emerged countries, primarily in Africa. Specifically, these targets would include:

- a. PAC and ANC: Gibson claims to have friends in both.
- b. FLN and Algerian government and publishing circles.
- c. Afro-Asian Journalists Association, and by extension, other Afro-Asian groups, such as exist or promised in youth, labor, women, and so forth.
- d. Pro-Chinese European parties, including the Belgian (he claims to have access to Grippe), the Marseilles faction and the Swiss activity of Nils Andersson.
- e. By extension from these, although at present only a remote possibility, developing Chinese propaganda and intelligence instrumentalities.

In the short range, a current assignment for us should meet the following criteria:

- a. lend itself to probationary exploitation;
- b. not tie Gibson down indefinitely to one location or involve him in an identification with one faction, group or party that would limit his later flexibility;
- c. permit him to respond to targets of opportunity as we may define them, both to have a maximum test of the range of his capability and access, and to probe for the best long-range use we can put him to;
- d. enable him to build his bona fides and his contacts as we may direct.

The best likely assignment to fulfill these requirements is that of a journalist, preferably operating from Europe, capable of credible travel in Europe, Africa and even Asia, with some associations which will preserve his bona fides with target Afro-Asian groups. Assuming the development of adequate cover, he could then spend an initial period this spring and summer in Algeria to cover the Second Bandung Conference (29 June) and the World Youth Festival (26 July). (Other international conferences, including followup AAPG meetings to the Ghana Congress in May, an Afro-Asian Journalists Conference or further PAJU meetings cannot be anticipated as targets at present either because of indefinite planning or because of unsuitable location. There is little doubt, however, that additional meetings will take place in Algiers and Africa bringing together interesting target personalities from Africa and Asia whom Gibson might attempt to report on.) In addition to his contribution in coverage of these meetings he might also attempt to develop his access and contact among the official Algerian community at least with the value of developing biographical and operational support data.

5. Proposed for Discussion. The following questions seem to present themselves for discussion at this time:

- a. decision on the continuation of support to Gibson on a probationary period;
- b. determination on targetting for initial probationary and possible long-range employment;
- c. mechanics of establishing a project;
- d. timetable for assignments.

Ref: OMLA 42,706 1. Ref forwarded the tapes and a rough transcription of the debriefing session with Subject, which were held on February 17, 18, 19, 23, 1965. 2. In accordance with Headquarters' instructions, these meetings were kept on a don't-call-us-we'll-call-you basis - in fact GIBSON was given no means for calling us. Also in accordance with Headquarters' instructions, we did not pay GIBSON at a constant rate of over $100 per hour. The first ($300) payment to GIBSON was in fact more than we had originally intended to give him as a "binder", but in light of the imminence of his trip to Europe we advanced him that sum to help him to meet his expenses. This nicely coincided with our own time table, since the time he was gone - some three weeks - should have provided adequate time for the initial tape to be reviewed and for requirements to be prepared and pouches to the field. At any rate, the total sum given to GIBSON, for his time and a shot at his mailing list, was $700. 3. LCHARVEST may well feel that it has been done out of $700 in CDA funds. The information obtained on ChiCom contacts of GIBSON, or on any ChiComs at all, was slight. GIBSON claims not to have had more than very little contact with them, and not to know too much about them. Unless there is hard info to the contrary, we are inclined to believe that GIBSON was telling pretty much the truth in this respect, as indeed seems to have been the case almost all of the time. While this is a bit of a disappointment, in a way, and seems to lessen the immediacy of LCHARVEST interest, it certainly does not appear to eliminate GIBSON's potential worth. 4. The London Station continues to feel that GIBSON has considerable potential as a source of positive intelligence on a wide range of targets - targets that appear to be only lightly covered otherwise, although we are not always able to judge this. A review of this debriefing can only cause one a certain amount of amazement at GIBSON's encyclopedic knowledge of many, many groups, personalities and parties of the far left, literally from America to Zanzibar. We leave it to Headquarters, of course, to evaluate 201-346-052

But what they want is a sort of autobiographical type of article.

I don't mind writing about Revolution. Here's the problem. Once I write about-- it's all right for me to write about Revolution. Nobody will object about how far I go one way or the other. What I told you I could put in the public press generally, except for this about the other group, but in terms of Revolution itself there's no objection. However, if I have to go any further than that, that means that as far as I'm concerned most of these people will never touch me with a ten foot pole. As it is, What contacts I have, some are more delicate than others-- but I feel that after this trip they could be ~~more~~ built up again, after somehow finding some means of interviewing people relatively regularly. So what I want to ask you is, ^{first} what sort of ideas-if ~~any~~ any, you ~~have~~ had in relation to me for future things; were you interested in my going, investigating anything ~~further~~ further for you or are you satisfied with what ^{left} I know now. As I say, I don't think I know terribly much really, except incidental things which might corroborate what you know ^{from other sources.} Secondly, in terms of following up, if there's anything ^(in particular) For instance, I would suggest, the person to get ~~this~~ Algerian ~~thing~~ would be Georges Arnault, ~~French~~ French writer who was in Algiers and worked on the first issue of Revolution Africaine, and after that ~~never~~ ^{there} anyone was ~~any~~ any more, ~~he~~ split with Vargas, ^(to me) Now works in the Ministry of Information and ~~who~~ remains fairly friendly on a personal basis and ~~if~~ that's what you're interested in. ^{again} who could get me a good deal of information on the Algerian side, ~~again~~ through ~~(Soviet)~~ and the Atlantic Monthly. Secondly there is a possibility ^(the) that we might both try to cover the Second Bandung Conference.

(Through who?)

Serge, the European representative of the Atlantic Monthly, and we might cover the Second Bandung in Algiers together. That's in June if it is going to be held at all. ~~With~~ ^{Under} Soviet pressure and other pressures might. If you're interested in other things, you know, now I have contacts a possibility - although it's a very slim one- just over across the street here. ~~The Indonesian press office needs somebody.~~ But I don't know These are little things. Pan African Congress- South Africa, whether—~~The people of the Black African Congress, the PAC, they~~ came to see me to know if I could help them a little here in London, in setting up their offices and handling their press campaign. Of course they haven't real money, ~~and~~

((That wasn't so appealing on that ground))

So, that wasn't so appealing on that score. And then also, they don't have a policy. They're sort of wavering between a policy which means telling one thing to the Congress for Cultural Freedom and telling another to the Chinese ~~in Peking~~, which any nationalist group has to do, obviously.
 It's extremely difficult ~~to get any kind of a straight answer even~~ inside the organization. And they are going through a period of reorganization, after some highly scandalous, not political offense, but just plain misappropriation of funds, the usual thing that happens in many, many African organizations. ~~It's incredible (laughs).~~ But I think the people here in London, at least on the surface, are somewhat more honest.

((Basically, you're not interested per se, in staying in the same milieu.))

No, no. But ~~I'm not interested~~ I'm not interested per se, let's say, in becoming a sort of professional anti-Communist. That ~~isn't~~ isn't—

((Not either way- either a professional anti-Communist or a professional revolutionist-))

(laughs) No, no.

~~Frankly, I do have a feeling, You~~ ~~know I feel very bad about ~~managing~~ someone~~ ~~I know his problems. Only~~
 I don't know how the hell to solve them, and what interests me is to see—against it is always a problem- what ~~the~~ the US government do - what the people will ~~do~~ do now that they've got ~~the~~ Walter Bow — — — — . To a certain extent I'm certain it was ~~an~~ provocation, though Walter was game for anything, if you had gone to him and proposed to shoot the President, he would have said yes. Well, he would have thought about it anyway, and probably would have agreed. He would probably suggest that you'd have to fight the President and the Supreme Court along with it, you know. And he's not wild. He's, very sensible, moderate boy, except that he has such a ~~he comes from~~ it's not a chip on his shoulder, he's got half of the forest, a redwood on his shoulder. He comes from, the paper says Philadelphia; he doesn't, he comes from Camden, New Jersey. I remember when he was playing jazz as a kid. I met him ~~recently~~ through this fellow in the Department of Agriculture

I told you about, ~~Mr.~~ Haggard. He was a very good friend of his as well.

Poor ~~Tony~~ he must be very nervous, down there in Agriculture, because he's known me personally, he's known Walter personally, They'll think he had some very strange friends.

Anyway, I'm certainly — you asked me for some information which I'm perfectly willing to give you. And if you had come along a long time ago and asked, in Paris, I probably would have given the same information. The point was that nobody seemed to want to know. I was talking to an American newsman-- I ~~was~~ wasn't running around peddling information, either- but I talked to people, sometimes saying just the opposite of what ~~J~~ Vorges was saying. He never really protested too much about this. He pretended that what he was doing was fairly on the level but it was fairly obvious that it wasn't. Anyway, I— what I want to know, if possible, in a relatively short period of time... I've got to make up my mind what I'm going to do. I don't know how I'm going to do anything, in fact,

~~but~~ But I do not intend, even for economic reasons, to do something which I think is absolutely dishonest, in the sense of writing ~~free myself~~ an article, if someone asked me to write an article about Communist attractions for African students in France- in fact the Communist Party has very ~~little~~ ^{few} ~~attraction~~ for African students in France. It's just the opposite. The ~~A~~ Day ^{CFA} ~~is~~, the ~~organization~~ for African students, is very resentful of what they consider — — — and they would only love to be enticed and wooed. But ~~this~~ this American had ~~had~~ an idea which was based on some, on his own mythology actually, of beautiful French white girls being sent to lure these simple-minded boys. In actual fact that's not true at all. I'm perfectly well aware that people have written articles which bear no relation to reality, they think off what the hell, they want this sort of thing, they pay for it. The Reader's Digest at one time was a regular market for that sort of thing.

But what's the point. It isn't true and even though it might "it isn't even good propaganda in the long run. ^(It may be good reading) It's a titillation ~~maxim~~ value, especially the racial thing with sex thrown in - -

At (What about your wife?)

Well, my wife, doesn't know — first of all, she knows ^{of} only once that I was seeing you, and she would highly disapprove of it. Not because my wife is a — has ever been a member of any party, ^{anybody} (including the Communist party; it's just that she would feel that that would be a highly

[Speaking of race and sex.]

(I'll be away. . . closed on Monday. Washington's birthday)

Oh, my God, is it?

(You'll have to buy a cherry pie this week end)

The kids know all about the cherry tree.

(Can you come on Tuesday?)

Yes. But my coming in and out of this Embassy is not the best thing ~~is~~ in the world. Right ~~over here~~ ^{over there} are the Indonesians, whom I know. Around the corner are the Cubans who know me very well. All it would take is one Cuban to see me walk in here.... I can always concoct a reason but . . . I don't know how many people are watching. For one thing, ~~take~~ ^{certainly}, the British Home Office, they've had me under surveillance ever since I've been here. There's no doubt about that. I got a tip on that from ~~the English~~ ^{the English} Marc Segal of the National Council of Civil Liberties... British may be allies and all, but ~~not~~ ^{not} all...

As far as my wife is concerned, she is by no means a dyed-in-the-wool Communist. She is not a Communist at all, never has been, but ~~she would not like that in the slightest~~ . . . I can't get her to understand. . .

((Washington would be the primary example of that))

Washington is that much more complicated because you are in the midst of the Southern States. Except that I notice, I have relatives that live around Washington. As a kid I used to go to Washington every summer. And going out towards Chevy Chase and Montgomery county, the Maryland side, there is a certain desegregation that has gone on. Obviously on the Virginia side it is the opposite. Also the Maryland counties to the South. That is a more segregated area. That is also the history-- the sort of slave line. in Maryland before the Civil War sort of went where Washington is now. across the State, to the South were they grow tobacco there was slavery, to the North there was no slavery. And there was a great deal of intermarriage- not intermarriage but racial intermixture. I have relatives who are to all intents and purposes white. When I was a child and went there in the summer, I really had no real awareness of race. It was a curious background of interracial mixture, that had gone on just before and after the Civil War. Now that has changed considerably., That's in Montgomery county.

I brought the address book.

((It's extremely interesting to consider the racial problem at home but I would like to finish this up.))

Yes. What sort of addresses do you want.

((The people we talked about))

This is Hassan Riad. Amoui is his name, we may have Ammar. Boite postale 3186 - Dakar, Senegal

M. Amabel. was a Canadian, former Communist. He was setting up, he did set up a pro-Chinese group near Vancouver. Apparently there was considerable activity there. (6323 Marine Drive, Burnaby 3, B.C., Canada)

This is address of the Mulana. To the best of my knowledge Verges never heard from him yet (Bhawan) - 9 Janata Wukly, 16/20 Tala Roy Lane, Dacca 1, E. Pak.

BOSGRA
Vosgra Is a very interesting person, in Holland. He is a man who works with Andersson occasionally. He is not a Communist, is a vague Leftist with the Christian-Pacifists, the Pacifist Socialist Party, in Holland, which has gathered in a strange grouping of Leftists. He has and Algerians. contacts with the Angolans. He goes to Algeria quite often. I have a feelin' Curiel he is somewhat connected with the Grrrit people. (Vinkenstraat 13" Amsterdam (Angola Comite) told.

✓ MASAO KITAZAWA - 20 Mohamed Said Flat 91, Cairo gave, was the Japanese representative to the Afro-Asian Solidarity Conference. He used to pass through Paris quite regularly. I don't think he is there any longer. Was much interested in the magazine. He used to use the ~~pxsydx~~ pseudonym of Walter Johnson sometimes.

✓ ~~Ab~~ Corina Karina? ^{SWAPO} was one of the leaders of the ~~SWAPO~~ of Southwest Africa.

used to send in articles. I knew him personally from New York.

has been going back and forth between Peking and also East Germany and West Germany. He's playing all sides. on this Southwest Africa thing.

✓ ~~Corina~~ ^{SWAPO} ~~Kozengizi~~ ^{SWAPO} is the head of SWAPO, the other Southwest Africa group. ~~(Sudan & SWAPO)~~

~~They have a unity. . once there was a struggle between Corina and Kozengizi. Corina~~ ^{Corina} ~~and Cochaibesa. Corina~~ ^{Kozengizi} was virtually eliminated. Corina is an American agent, and so forth. The last story that I heard about Corina was that he was working for the Peace Corps in Bechuanaland. These are the stories that they circulated. Corina has been unable to hold up his end of it. He is kind of sulking. And violence hasn't helped him at all. ^{Corina} ~~Cooperativa~~ ^{but it's} has embarrassed people ^{over and over} - monomania for his work.

✓ ~~Abdul Rahim KARIM~~ ^(1905, Finney Rd., London NW3) special representative now, in London, for Verges.

He is in Singapore. His article on Malaysia, against Malaysia, was greatly appreciated by the Indonesian government and a large number of copies of the issue of Revolution which contained it were bought up and it was later reproduced. We received from Indonesian Embassies all around subscriptions. orders for that issue. Subscriptions came from the UN, their missions to the UN, perhaps here in London.

✓ ~~Julian Mayfield~~ ^{Academy of Science, P.O. Box 2 G48 Accra.} in Ghana doesn't use this address as often as he used to. because he is now editor of something called the African Review. It is a new magazine.

✓ Now here's an interesting fellow- Mama, I never quite figured him out. He is a Surinam ^{Surinam} Pem-Pem nationalist. in Amsterdam. He is close to almost all the Left parties. there. He pretends to be Marxist but claims that he is not involved in the Sino-Soviet ^{dispute.} section. He doesn't want anything to do with that. That is the reason he never wrote anything for the magazine. though I did see him. *

The FBI was in no mood - we could probably have arranged something if the Federal thing wasn't going to be held against him, that is that he was a fugitive, most likely wouldn't extradite him to New York. There were talks on this. A lawyer by the name of Conrad Lynn had discussed this with, a Negro lawyer who was connected with the Freedom Now Party, another Black Nationalist group, but with basically a Trotskyite front. It was put up 99% by the ⁵ FWP which was one of the reasons for its failure. This lawyer was well aware of Williams's desire to come back to the United States if he could stay out of the hands of a North Carolina lynch mob. The one talk I had with the FBI people convinced me that they were in no mood whatsoever, even though they realized what the situation was.

(Pan-African Press - P.O. #164 - Pinto, Private Bag 8159, Nairobi)
✓ Pinto is a very curious fellow. Pinto is a man who is close to Kenyatta.
In Kenya, who has or is involved with the Pan-African press, who is not hooked up with Odinga, not openly in any case, but who is sort of playing all sides, looking for hand-outs. I understand that he received substantial help from Russia, so that he has shown more Muscovite color than any other.

William Pomeroy is the American who was captured with the Huks in the Philippines, you remember? He lives here in London, more or less retired from politics except that he writes. That's how he earns his living.
But he depends more or less on the good graces of the British Labor Party the Left of that party and the British Communist Party to stay here.
What he has to say about the failure of the guerrilla campaign in the Philippines and the present Leftward turn in the Philippines apparently -- Progressive
There is an outfit called the Philippine Review which I think we (Revolution) gave publicity to - here it is - the Progressive Review. It is connected with Pomeroy. They are about as Communist as they can get under the present law of the Philippines. They have hopes of what they call the Anti-Imperialist ground swell, in other words, an anti-American trend in the present government. They felt that the anti-Malaysia campaign might help, and the editor has been very much in contact with the Indonesians. He has been to Djakarta on several occasions recently. He is in contact with Pomeroy. Pomeroy's position is one inwhich he has to be very careful because the British Communists will dump him. His wife is Philippine. She can't get an American visa, so they have to live here. This makes him the captive of a certain part of the British Labor Left and the British CP. His book, The Forest, was published here and in the States by Communist publishing houses. It is an account of the guerrilla campaign in the Philippines, at least his personal account, but he pointed out to me, that it is also an account of its failures. He has tried to keep out of the Sino-Soviet thing but I have a feeling that if the situation in the Philippines changed both he and his wife would like to go back there. This is what he may be going (working for) through his contacts with the Progressive Review. I don't know how far they have contacts with the people inside the Philippines government but they claim to have.)

Venturelli, Calle E, "55 1-B, Vedado, Havana
José Torreblanca, Havana, is a Venezuelan artist and member of supposedly very very interested in the magazine.

He is a friend of ~~XXXXXX~~ Martha Dodd, you may find on the cards the magazine was going to him c/o Martha Dodd at the Havana Libre hotel.

Martha Dodd had no contact with the magazine. She ~~xxxxt~~ reportedly had taken quite a pro-Chinese position but to be so hopelessly compromised with the Czechs and Russians that she can't say too much except ex cachet, to everybody she meets, especially young people. Whether this is her real attitude or not, I don't know. She might also be doing this to gain the confidence of people. There is no question that Venturelli is her very close friend.

I understand that his group of the Trotskyists were more pro-Chinese than the pro-Chinese wing of the Ceylonese Communist party. He tried to get us to take their magazine in exchange.

That covers all of the real addresses that I have.

((At this point let's take stock of you. Is your kid back in school?))

Yes.

((You're not under pressure))

No. Thank the Lord, I've got that off the hook for a little while.

22 ((You have largely answered the question- What is the function of the Advisory Board of Revolution))

Nothing more unless it was to give prestige to the enterprise. This is why it keeps growing larger and larger. First it started out as an editorial board, then he changed the title, to advisory board. then he calls it permanent collaborators. I don't know why. He claimed that under French law you had only exemption from seizure if you were really French -- now I do know what it was -- one issue of the magazine was seized in France. That was No. 7 which had Ho Chi Minh on the cover. It wasn't seized for Ho Chi Minh but because of an article on Reunion and the French West Indies. It was a platonic seizure, more in the way of a warning. The seizure order came down after the magazine had been distributed. There were virtually no copies picked up. Undistributed and returned copies were seized but the money wasn't seized. That's about the nicest way you can seize a magazine. It was a warning. And he felt that an editorial board made up of foreigners didn't give him enough protection in France. That was the reason for changing to permanent collaboration.^{IVS}

1. Transmitted herewith is one copy of the cards that constitute the mailing list for Revolution. These were borrowed from Richard GIBSON and copied in the station. GIBSON's wife, who compiled the cards and was responsible for distribution of Revolution (and to whom, therefore, they more properly belong) is not aware that GIBSON has "loaned" the cards out. They were returned to GIBSON's flat the same day he brought them in for copying.

2. We have not made any attempt to count them. There are several thousand. A few comments will be in order about some of the marks and notations that appear on the cards.

3. One general category is "Promotional". The first bunch of sheets - about twenty, it appears - are in this category. They are marked "Promotional" or "PR". These were sent out gratis either to induce publicity, or to encourage new subscribers, or to make friends happy. (Presumably, Robert WILLIAMS and several others are in this category).

4. Thereafter, the cards run in categories of one sort or another, with given countries generally lumped together. Those where the address was obviously stapled onto a card are some of those that were taken from Prem GINWALA's Spearhead mailing list. Some are marked "ex-Spearhead", which means that the name came from the Spearhead List, and the person subsequently subscribed on his own, after a little promotional treatment.

5. The coded symbols, unfortunately, GIBSON could not explain, since this was his wife's territory, rather than his own. The first set of letters obviously refers to the country (e.g., UK). Other numbers and letters are not clear. The name that appears apart from the name of the subscriber usually indicates who arranged the subscription (this may be an agent, or something like a gift subscription). For instance, S. V. LKS is Sheldon LKS, who handles some subscriptions. Expiration dates are obvious. "Private" merely means that someone ordered a subscription directly, himself, rather than through an agency.

6. Any further questions relating to the list can be included in any subsequent contacts with GIBSON; if they merit inclusion, and if it seems likely that he will know the answers.

7. We note that the list's accuracy cannot be guaranteed, especially after the time when the GIBSON's parted ways with Jacques VERGES.

8. At some time, the SMOOTHIES may ask us for this list. We would appreciate being advised as to whether Headquarters would like us to acknowledge having it.

3. In line with the need to put the debriefing on a businesslike (rather than a "flexible") basis, it might be a good idea to start by getting Subject to supply a personal history statement from the time of his first entry into leftist political movements to the present day. (This can be presented to Subject as a basis for us to formulate meaningful questions, not as any sort of personal "confession" on his part.) In addition to providing us with a check on his veracity, this will set the stage for a debriefing conducted on KUBARK's terms, not Subject's. It is important that it be made clear to Subject at the outset that we want facts, not speculation, commentary and analysis. 4. Please charge payments to Subject for the debriefing to Acct. Nr. 5137 - 1468 (Hqs. LCHARVEST OOA). Three hundred dollars for the initial 2½ hours talk with Subject is on the steep side. 1. Transmitted herewith are copies of JAGUAR's latest report on Richard Thomas GIBSON, which they compiled for us on being informed of our current operational interest in him. We expect that further information will be forthcoming since, as previously noted, they have instituted additional coverage of GIBSON's activities.
2. JAGUAR refer us to their previous reporting on GIBSON, which has been contained in their reports on Revolution. These include CEL-36,105(29 August 1963); CELA-40,542(15 April 1964); CELA-41,545(10 September 1964); CEL-39,251(24 September 1964); CELA-41,753(20 October 1964).
3. JAGUAR also point out that the paper contains information received from a number of secret sources, and they request that we not give it any distribution beyond KUBARK without consulting them, unless, of course, we have the information from other sources. JAGUAR have made a copy available to CENAVY London.
4. JAGUAR also informed us orally that the persons they suspect to have played a most prominent role in the 1963 charges of GIBSON's CIA affiliation - the two persons referred to in para 3 of their paper - were Rosalyn ALBESLINE and Patricia McCOWAN. JAGUAR gave us this information informally and off the record. It is interesting to note that, in Ref., GIBSON agreed that ALBESLINE was one but made no mention of McCOWAN.
5. GIBSON spoke of the affair of JAGUAR's para 3 (a) at some length, giving a rather different interpretation, however. Paragraphs 3 (b), (c), and (d) are rather more speculative. 6. JAGUAR also told us, informally, that some of their information on GIBSON, as contained herein, derives from some of his correspondence. The implication is not that JAGUAR has been reading GIBSON's mail, but that, by intercepts or penetrations, they have been reading the mail of some of the

7. As a belated footnote to Ref, we learn that JAGUAR had previously identified the Swiss printer of File ANGUSARY (see OEL-39,251, 24 September 1964).

8. JAGUAR informed us on 26 January that GIBSON had requested (prior to 23 January) a one-month extension of his residence permit, to enable him to make his proposed European trip and return to the U.K. The extension was granted without demur.

SUBJECT KUDESK/LCHARVEST/REVOLUTION Tape of Interview with Richard Thomas GIBSON					INDEXED
ACTION REQUIRED REFERENCES
REF: LOND 5706, 21 January 1965
1. Attached is the tape of the interview with GIBSON, recorded in an Embassy office, using a Uher 4000 Report - 5 recorder, recording at a speed of 15/16 feet per minute. The interviewer used the alias of Earl Wilson. Gibson arrived at 1745 and departed at about 2030. 2. We are not attempting to summarize or analyze GIBSON's comments in this dispatch. The tape provides a much more revealing picture than our subjective comments could. A few notes, however, appear to be in order. 3. Speaking of his departure, GIBSON said he planned to leave London on 24 or 25 January. As of noon 24 January, at least, he was still in London because I saw him walking on St. John's Wood High Street. (A potential problem exists here: GIBSON and I live within a few blocks of one another and not infrequently ride the same bus line. This problem can only be met when it manifests itself.) JAGUAR, incidentally, has alerted its immigration contacts (prior to our meeting with GIBSON) and requested that his name be put on a watch list. They said that they would inform us if they learn that he has left the country. We have not yet heard that he has left. 4. GIBSON was given money amounting to $300. Under the circumstances of his plans, as he expressed them, it seemed reasonable to do so, to ensure, at least partially, that he would come back to talk more. He was more than willing to take the money and raised the initial suggestion of $200 to $300 or $400. His obvious shift in his line regarding dollars (as opposed to pounds) is further indicative of his willingness to get what he could. 5. The considerable number of names mentioned by GIBSON makes the transcription of the notes a sizable chore, and in order to lessen this burden a listing has been compiled of almost all of the names, in the order in which they appear in the tape, with the exception of VERGERS and the Free Play for Cuba Committee, CBS and a few others. The names appear only one time each on the list, although many of them crop up repeatedly in the tape.

REF: DIR 78506

As stated in reference we forward herewith copy of Gibson's letter which the Station might consider using ultimately to establish bona fides if other means of establishing bona fides (such as phone call to Embassy) does not satisfy Gibson. London case officer in showing the letter to Gibson need not admit to or represent himself as a member of KUBARK, though Gibson might well make that assumption.

SUBJECT KOBIRD/LCHARNEST/UNBOUND - Identity A, formerly employed by Identity B
ACTION REQUIRED - REFERENCES
REFERENCE: PARI 8052
NOTE: The following round-up and commentary on Identity A had been drafted before PALP 3017 of 6 January 1965 and later traffic presented the case in a somewhat different light. We forward the following anyway, as some of the background and suggestions still seem pertinent. Several questions raised below have now been resolved, notably the allegation of an Identity A/JUBARK link (explained by the ODENY letter of 1 December 1964, not available when the following was written). Copies of recent PALP correspondence on Identity A, passed to us on 13 January 1965, are attached as Attachment 3, USC.
1. Upon receiving the memorandum cited in the reference, we requested further details from UNBOUND, stressing our interest in the report that CPUSA members had given IDEN C documents which showed IDEN A belonged to "the services of JUBARK". D/5986 of 30 December 1964, UNBOUND's answer to our query, merely reiterates that the UNBOUND source, a good one, based the report on a "communication of documents" by American Communists to IDEN C, which supposedly established that IDEN A belonged to JUBARK; UNBOUND states that the source is not in a position to identify the persons in question. UNBOUND's reply suggests the information might have come from an audio operation; we might mention here that IDEN A has appeared occasionally on UNPKY, but never in an informative way. A mail intercept might also be the source of UNBOUND's report, or it may have come from a third service (conceivably JAGUAR or SKOTH). 2. Our continuing preoccupation with the IDEN A question is three-fold: (a) his expulsion from IDEN B (and thus from acceptance by pro-Peiping groups) opens the door for his possible recruitment; (b) we would like to determine whether his ouster was engineered by personal enemies or whether he actually did work for an intelligence service, and which one; (c) as Peiping regards the USA as its primary target, the Chinese can be expected to continue propaganda attacks designed to create IDEN D tension and inflame the Afro/Asians against the U.S.A. While domestic effects of such propaganda are properly handled by ODAWNY, the manipulation of IDEN Ds to further Chinese propaganda abroad becomes KHRUSHCHEV's concern.

3. KHRUSHCHEV's recruitment of IDEN A, or establishment of controlled access to him, could be extremely useful in countering attempts to undermine the USA with the Africanists. IDEN A presumably still has a reasonably up-to-date idea of IDEN B plans in this regard, and he must know the names and locations of many persons involved. The most effective approach to IDEN A would probably be through an offer of money (his history indicates venality, and at present he appears to be in financial difficulties), and by stressing his chance to get even with IDEN C. The purity of IDEN A's Communism is open to question and should not impede recruitment; a more formidable obstacle to a successful operation is his possible connection with a foreign intelligence service. This could be a Western service but might also be the Soviets, for whom he would serve the dual purpose of causing trouble for the USA and at the same time reporting on the Chinese propaganda machine; it is a matter of record that the Soviets view IDEN C seriously. Whatever the basis for a Khrushchev approach to IDEN A, it would require careful security planning, taking cognizance of his instability and his known attitude toward GUYONE as an IDEN D.

4. "Revolution" has featured articles by three American Negroes, Richard GIBSON, Robert Franklyn WILLIAMS, and Malcolm X, all obviously intended to prejudice readers against the USA on ground of racial injustice. All three men are or have been involved with foreign Communists: GIBSON and WILLIAMS with the Chinese and the Cubans, notably, and Malcolm X with the Chinese and various African Communists (actual or crypto). The "New York Herald Tribune" of 4 January 1965 reported Malcolm's statement that he hopes to "internationalize" the American Negro problem, and that he claims to have influenced several African governments to make representations in the U.N. against the USA's treatment of its Negroes. This may be a foretaste of Chinese plans for foreign exploitation of this issue; Malcolm was interviewed by "Revolution" in Cairo, which has since proved its enthusiastic anti-Americanism.

5. OFP-14693 reports that Philip BAETZ, a pro-Soviet official of the CPUSA, stated in December 1964 that the CPUSA has positive proof that four members of their Chinese faction are being paid by the Chinese Communists. (It is perhaps relevant to note here that the advent of "Revolution" was hailed by letters to the Editor from American leftists, including the FPCC; according to OFP-37875, Vincent T. LEE of "All Worlds Publications" in New York City takes subscriptions for "Revolution"). It is hard to say where IDEN A enters into the clouded picture of American Communist partisanship in the Sino/Soviet rift, but in view of his shifting allegiances he may have divulged to pro-Soviet CPUSA members, or to the Soviets themselves, information on Chinese subversion in the USA. The October 1964 issue of "Hammer & Steel Newsletter" is cited by the Radio Free Europe research bulletin of November 1964 in the latter's review of pro-Chinese factions among Western Communist Parties; RFE research describes "Hammer & Steel" as a monthly produced in Boston by a small American faction. (Portions of the RFE research bulletin with its citations from "Hammer & Steel" are attached as Attachment 1). The marked paragraph from "Hammer & Steel" hits at the idea of white nations' inherent superiority; this is consistent with China's claim of a bond among the colored peoples of the world, which permits such effective anti-Soviet propaganda as the cover of "Revolution" for May 1964, which shows KHRUSHCHEV saying, "We, the whites...".

6. IDEN C's denunciation of IDEN A may have been at least partially caused by suspicion he was trying to gain control of IDEN E; it will be recalled that very shortly before his ouster, IDEN A was in Holland negotiating for that type of printing equipment (DAGU 6137 and CHINA 23818). He is now living in London; he was presumably soon obliged to find work there (unless he actually is on an intelligence payroll), and he may have landed with some leftist publishing outfit or even with the CPUSA, which is sufficiently divided to afford room for his current views, whatever they may be. In addition to IDEN A's potential for reporting on Chinese propaganda efforts, his uses as a penetration of British or other European Communist publishing circles are obvious.

7. UNQUOTE reported that American Communists had allegedly given IDEN C documents showing IDEN A worked for KUBLAK. One explanation of this allegation may lie in IDEN A's visit to the American Embassy, Paris, in late 1963, at the request of Mr. John G. COSETT, then Acting Consul General. COSETT was interested in any information he might have on possible connections between IDEN F, with whom IDEN A had been connected, and President Kennedy's assassination. (A copy of COSETT's Memorandum of Conversation is attached under separate cover as Attachment 2; his appraisals of IDEN A and his reservations concerning his motives are interesting). IDEN A and COSETT had a far-ranging talk, including what may have been a tentative feeler by IDEN A for ODEME employment. It seems likely that IDEN A would have reported an American Embassy inquiry to his friends in IDEN F, and he may even have mentioned the possibility of future "work" for ODEME, which could have led to eventual allegations that he had been recruited by KUBLAK. This is of course speculation, but IDEN A's flexible loyalties and liking for money are surely known to his colleagues, and, if he had already aroused antagonism among them, the Embassy visit would serve as a peg for sincere or expedient denunciation.

8. We can shed no light on the allegation that IDEN G is a KUBLAKER (LOSD 5337). Our only trace is OELA 39346, stating he is IDEN H. We are not clear as to the relationship between IDEN A, IDEN G, and IDEN I, also mentioned in OELA 39346, which states she "appears to be" IDEN A's wife. According to ODEME Paris, however, IDEN A is married to IDEN J. OEL 39251 of September 1964 reported that IDEN A and his wife (unnamed) had successfully sued IDEN B for salary arrears; the fact that the wife was also employed recalls the IDEN I professional status, which might make her operationally significant whether or not she is married to IDEN A.
